

For The Boards Consideration:
Front Entry Door and Stained-Glass Transom Restoration

East Victorian District
215 E Park Ave
Savannah Georgia 31401

Letter of Intent

To Whom It May Concern,

I am requesting approval to modify the front entry door and transom window of my residence located within the Victorian East Historic District in Savannah, Georgia.

The proposed work consists of replacing the existing front entry door, a modern multi-glass-paneled door, with a solid mahogany door more consistent with Victorian aesthetics. The new door would better complement the historic character of the home and will include traditional brass hardware and a brass door knocker consistent with Victorian-era architectural details. The door would be painted Farrow & Ball Lulworth Blue (#7FAFD1), a soft, slightly-gray blue influenced by Prussian blue and ultramarine and frequently used in coastal, Queen Anne, and late Victorian residences around the build of our home (1883).

Additionally, I propose replacing the existing, plain clear-glass transom window located above the front door with a custom Victorian-style stained-glass transom. The stained-glass design will be historically inspired and intended to enhance the architectural character and visual appeal of the home's primary façade while maintaining compatibility with the surrounding East Victorian Historic District.

The purpose of these changes is twofold. First, the modifications will improve the overall aesthetics of the property by introducing architectural elements that are more consistent with the Victorian character of the structure and the surrounding neighborhood. Second, replacing the existing glass-paneled door with a solid mahogany door will provide enhanced security and privacy for the residence while improving the historic integrity of the facade.

These improvements are intended to preserve and enhance the historic appearance of the home while improving its functionality, privacy, and security. I respectfully request approval of this proposed work and appreciate your consideration of this application.

Sincerely,

Alastair J Evans
